POLY SHEEN®

100 % trilobal polyester

Now, your creations
will blossom even longer.

«Things were different in the old days», goes the old saying. And it's right! When it came to machine embroidery, nothing felt better than viscose: gentle, soft and shiny. But times change. Today, there is Mettler Poly Sheen®. It has all the advantages of viscose, and much more besides.

All the tests confirm it. Better elongation and a 50 % improvement in tensile strength mean a huge increase in stitch consistency. No breaking threads to interrupt your work. And even under the most demanding conditions, the trilobal polyester thread keeps its brilliance. All that, plus 351 colors and two spool sizes. No one offers more. So it's time to say goodbye to viscose; the future belongs to Mettler Poly Sheen®.

For information on spool sizes see inside.
