

Making Quality Intimates

This workshop was designed to help you select the thread types and sizes that will give you the best seam performance and appearance possible for your intimate products. We have also included new “innovative stitching” ideas that can add improved visual appeal and higher value to your intimate apparel collection.

What should you hope to gain from this Seamology – Making Quality Intimates Workshop?

- How to use A&E’s Intimates ISO 4915 Stitch Matrix
- Better understanding of Garment Construction
- Knowledge of the factors affecting Seam Integrity and Seam appearance
- Innovative stitching ideas
- Innovative thread ideas
- Introduction on how to use A&E’s popular Stitch Matrix for communicating Stitch Types to Contractors using the ISO4915 stitch numbering system

Other topics covered include:

- Introduction to overcoming common seam quality problems
 - Minimize needle cuts and needle holes on knits
 - Minimize seam failures on stretch knits
- Introduction to common stitches used for manufacturing intimates and why each is used

This 1 to 1 ½ Seamology – Making Quality Intimates workshop is loaded with practical, helpful ideas that can assist you in resolving everyday sewing issues. You are encouraged to bring sample garments with thread and seam related quality issues to the class for discussion.

You provide: A classroom, large screen (or blank wall), and a table to set-up our projector on.

A&E provides: All handouts with the seminar – and, it’s FREE!
