Developed from 100% recycled polybutylene terephthalate (PBT), A&E's Aneflex™ ECO100™ sewing thread adds sustainable stretch for highly elastic seams. An eco-friendly variant of A&E's Aneflex™, this thread is engineered for sewing performance in stretch garments constructed with highly extensible fabrics without compromising seam strength. Aneflex™ ECO100™ is produced in GRS SCOPE CERTIFIED facilities.

100% RECYCLED PBT

Manufactured with 100% recycled PBT, this thread product is an excellent sustainable option for the sewing of responsible apparel requiring good elongation.

HIGH ELASTICITY

As with traditional Aneflex™, this recycled thread provides significantly higher elongation than other sewing threads of the same size.

GOOD SEWING PERFORMANCE

High initial modulus contributes to a good overall sewing performance when used as a needle or bottom thread and in all major stitch types.
